OUR GRATITUDE FOR THE

Coughlin Endowment

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the late Dr. Dennis Coughlin Jr., an orthopedic surgeon in Knoxville, Tennessee, and his family for their continued financial support, namely, “The Coughlin Endowment” in memory of Dr. Dennis Coughlin Sr. (1890-1954).

The Coughlin Endowment provides funding for the University of Tennessee College of Veterinary Medicine Continuing Education Annual Conference for Veterinarians and Veterinary Technicians. UTCVM is very grateful that Dr. Coughlin’s family provides this means to honor his father, Dr. Dennis Coughlin Sr.

The senior Dr. Coughlin’s illustrious career included veterinary practice with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and as president of the Tennessee Veterinary Medical Association from 1940-1941. A native of South Dakota, he completed his veterinary degree in 1916 at Kansas City Veterinary College in Kansas City, Missouri. During his career in the Tennessee area, he met and married Esther Brackin, a member of the University of Tennessee faculty.

UTCVM is grateful for the support of the Coughlin Endowment.
INVITED GENERAL SESSION SPEAKER

Jeanne Malnati
MSW, LCSW
CEO & FOUNDER, THE CULTURE GROUP
CHICAGO, IL

Jeanne Malnati is co-owner of the oldest family name in Chicago pizza, Lou Malnati’s Pizzeria. In its 48-year history, Malnati’s has grown to 58 locations in the Chicago land area, and more recently, in Arizona. As a key facilitator both upfront and behind the scenes for Malnati’s, Jeanne has helped to create a healthy workplace culture for 3,800 employees who love arriving at work each day.

Jeanne’s Clean and Clear Communication program has helped earn the company Top Workplace Award from the Chicago Tribune for the past ten consecutive years, as determined by the employees, as well as the Top 150 National Workplace award. These awards have nothing to do with the pizza and everything to do with the culture that has been created.

Known as a Culture Transformation Expert, Jeanne is also the founder and CEO of The Culture Group where she helps businesses create and maintain thriving workplace environments. An expert in relationship and interpersonal communication dynamics, Jeanne has developed a unique formula, The Malnati Effect, to help leadership teams clear through their “baggage.”

A licensed psychotherapist with a master’s degree in Social Work from Loyola University in Chicago, she has a rich expertise in facilitating group dynamics, working with corporate teams, non-profits, and families, assisting them to focus on the health of their relationships by having honest conversations with one another.

A much sought-after speaker and presenter, whether to an audience of 10-10,000, Jeanne’s ability to connect with people, combined with her passion for sharing heartfelt, experience-driven business stories and life lessons, inspires and challenges audiences of all kinds.

Jeanne and her husband Marc celebrate 40 years of marriage, have 3 adult children, 4 grandchildren and live in Chicago. She is known for being one of the hippest Grammy’s around.
DISTINGUISHED COUGHLIN VISITING PROFESSOR

Joseph Taboada
DVM, DACVIM (SAIM)
LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE
BATON ROUGE, LA

Dr. Taboada, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs and Accreditation and a Professor of Small Animal Internal Medicine at LSU SVM, graduated from the Virginia-Maryland College of Veterinary Medicine and pursued specialty training in internal medicine by first completing an internship at The Animal Medical Center (AMC) in New York City and then a small animal internal medicine residency at the University of Florida.

Dr. Taboada is a diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ACVIM); is a past President and Chair of the Board of ACVIM, of the Specialty of Internal Medicine, and of the ACVIM Foundation. He was a member of the Board of Regents of ACVIM from 1996-2009 and a member of the board of the ACVIM Foundation from 2004-2011. He served as an Associate Editor for the Journal of Veterinary Internal Medicine from 2002-2007.

He has won 28 national and SVM teaching and service awards, including the Pfizer-Norden Distinguished Teacher Award, the AMC Distinguished Alumni Award, the American Animal Hospital Association (AAHA) Innovative Veterinary Diets Award for contributions to the profession, the AAHA Distinguished Service Award, the ACVIM Distinguished Service Award, and the ACVIM Foundation Distinguished Service Award.

He has spoken at over 150 international, national, regional, and local meetings, and has a textbook that has been published in 3 languages, has written over 100 book chapters, and over 100 scientific articles.

Dr. Taboada’s special interests are feline medicine, hepatology, fungal and other miscellaneous infectious diseases, endoscopy, and veterinary education.
DISTINGUISHED COUGHLIN PROFESSOR

Rebecca Gompf
DVM, MS, DACVIM (Cardiology)
UTCVM CARDIOLOGY
KNOXVILLE, TN

Dr. Gompf earned her DVM and MS degrees from The Ohio State University. Afterwards, she did an internship at the Animal Medical Center in New York, NY, and a cardiology residency at the University of California, Davis. Dr. Gompf became board certified in cardiology in 1981 and began her career at the University of Tennessee College of Veterinary Medicine when the first class was in its senior year and has been a part of the faculty there ever since. She began seeing cardiology and medicine cases, but since the early 1990s, she has practiced only cardiology. Dr. Gompf feels honored to be able to say that she has taught cardiology to every UTCVM class, either during their clinical or classroom years or both. She will be retiring in July 2020 after 42 rewarding years at UTCVM and will miss the students, faculty, and staff.

INVITED VETERINARY TECHNICIAN SPEAKER

Amy Newfield
CVT, VTS (ECC)
BLUEPEARL VETERINARY PARTNERS
WALTHAM, MA

Amy is currently employed with BluePearl Veterinary Partners as a Project Manager for Training and Team Development. After working in general practice for many years, Amy found her passion in emergency medicine. In 2003 she became a Veterinary Technician Specialist in Emergency and Critical Care. She has held several board positions in the Academy of Veterinary Emergency & Critical Care Technicians & Nurses including president. Amy is well published in over 15 subjects, is an international speaker, has received numerous awards including two speaker of the year awards and is highly involved in her community. She lives in Massachusetts with her wonderful furry kids where you can find her eating chocolate, running in the woods, competing in agility and diving in the ocean.
